

Corrugated Production Operative

Barton Jones Packaging are a well-established supplier/manufacturer of corrugated cartons, bespoke boxes, and a large variety of packaging. Based in Letchworth Garden City, we are looking to recruit a Corrugated Production Operative to work as part of a team running machines producing high quality, bespoke corrugated boxes.

- Main duties

- Operate production machinery and equipment to manufacture bespoke corrugated products
- Follow strict standard operating procedures and safety guidelines to ensure efficient and safe production processes
- Adhere to accreditation quality, hygiene and safety policies
- Ensure quality checks during manufacture and on finished products are carried out to ensure they meet specifications
- Assemble components as required

- Skills required

- Good arithmetic skills
- Quality conscious with excellent attention to detail and the ability to measure and check dimensions accurately.
- Experience in a manufacturing environment
- Flexible approach, a can-do work ethic and a great team player.

You will be working with a small friendly team on a variety of roles with a mix of machines which makes the work interesting and varied. Therefore, this is the perfect opportunity for an individual to take the next step in their career with some excellent training and development.
